We've lovingly restored this stunning Grade II listed building in the historic Royal William Yard in Plymouth.

Taking the time, care and attention to use traditional craftsmen and building methods to bring the house back to its former glory, our collection of 14 stylish, simply-appointed bedrooms are filled with period architectural charm. The ideal place to relax after a busy day.

A Telegraph review praised the fact that, "...beautiful Georgian features have been retained." This was no accident. Our architects and builders worked very hard to restore Residence One to as close to the original as they could, without sacrificing the modern amenities that ensure a comfortable stay.

Our rooms are located just across the green from our stunning bistro and bar, where you can enjoy breakfast, lunch and dinner during your stay. There is also a beautiful external terrace area to enjoy on warmer days.

See pages 17 to 21 for full details of our bistro and bar.

“The classic period architecture is matched with simple yet smart interior design. Quality furnishings and linens grace each room and each boasts an extremely comfortable Sealy bed.”

About Rooms

When Bistrot Pierre took over Residence One, our plan was to return the residence to its former glory, whilst adding luxurious amenities that ensured your stay would be as comfortable and relaxing as possible.

Over its life, parts of the building had fallen into disrepair and so the fabric of the building, the exterior, rooms and sash windows were carefully restored and refurbished. The team had to painstakingly remove lots of unsympathetic modernisation that had been added over the course of the 20th century. All the stone flags were lifted, cleaned and then re-pointed using lime mortar and traditional lime plaster was used on the walls, allowing the building to ‘breathe’.

We managed to salvage and re-use over 20 of the original Georgian doors in the Residence. If you are staying in the suite, you may notice that one of the radiators dates back to the 1800’s.

Every one of our 14 Rooms is different and each has its own individual quirks and charm.

Our food

Our dishes are freshly prepared by our chefs daily, using carefully sourced artisan ingredients from France and fresh products from local producers and suppliers.

We've crafted dishes with respect for their French roots – always special, but never fussy. Classic favourites sit alongside modern French cuisine and dishes inspired from cooking across the world, all with the spirit of France at their heart.

Served from 7am onwards (8am at weekends), our breakfast offers you plenty of variety.

For lunch or dinner why not try home-made chicken liver parfait or crispy calamari. Enjoy main courses such as slow-cooked bœuf bourguignon, steak frites or lighter fish dishes and salads.

Finish your meal the French way, with carefully chosen, imported French cheeses or home-made crème brûlée.

The Bar at Bistrot Pierre

Our bar provides you with the perfect pit-stop, the ideal way to relax in beautiful surroundings and unwind with a drink of your choice. On warmer days you can relax on our outside terrace.

We have a wide selection of drinks, many from small local French producers.

We serve a selection of local real ales and gins, as well as having an extensive wine list. Our range of cocktails are also perfect for celebrating any occasion.

See also our wide range of soft drinks, superb coffee and range of teas.

About Royal William Yard & things to do

The Royal William Yard is an award-winning Grade I listed ex-naval victualling yard, which has been regenerated in recent years to become the best place to work, rest and play in the South West.

Constructed between 1825 and 1831 by Sir John Rennie, the Royal William Yard is steeped in history and considered to be one of the most important groups of historic military buildings in Britain.

The building that houses our Rooms was once the accommodation for the Royal Navy's officer classes. When originally built in 1830 the Residences cost £4,500, a staggering amount at that time. The residences boasted a number of outbuildings which originally included stables, a wash-house and carriage house.

Superbly located between the River Tamar and Plymouth Sound, Royal William Yard provides breath-taking views and a great place to base yourself when visiting Plymouth, or as a gateway to Devon and Cornwall. It boasts an array of eating and drinking experiences as well as a range of interesting and eclectic shops.

The centre of Plymouth can be easily reached on foot, by car, bike or bus (Plymouth Citybus 34/34A). Alternatively you can hop on and off the local ferry service from Royal William Yard Marina which can take you between Royal William Yard, the historic Barbican and even over to Cornwall to Visit Mount Edgumbe.
